SCHERZINO

from the Faschingschwank aus Wien
("Carnival Pranks in Vienna")

The "Carnival Pranks" composed in 1838 and mainly representative of the festive merriment, offer a picture of the boisterous life and joviality of the carnival season. It is one of the most characteristic and popularly attractive of Schumann's works. The "Faschingschwank" is perhaps the most jovial and humorous of the five miniatures, representing the composer in his own vein, and suggesting the nature and feelings of the maskers. It demands a spirited, somewhat capricious rendition.
